The Book Of Salt Monique

The Book of Salt is Vietnamese-American author Monique Truong's first novel; it presents a narrative through the eyes of Bìn, a Vietnamese cook. His story centers in Paris in his life as the cook in the home of Gertrude Stein and Alice B. Toklas, and is supplemented by his memories of his childhood in French-colonial Vietnam. This book is structured as a stream of consciousness narrative, in which Bìn's present circumstances are mixed with episodes from his past, showing bits ...

The Book of Salt is less successful at investing Binh with enough of a character to really give the book depth. He is more a collection of traits than a person in his own right. It is not just his audience in Paris and his family back home who are projecting their issues and needs onto Binh, in the end it is the author herself.
